

New Home

Su, Myrtle and Tully have just moved to a new little home.

Its a town and a block with a long history and a bright future.

Our vision is for a friendly home and a productive garden which contribute to sustainability in and around our local area.

Even back in 1941 this block had its own character, and the elms were well established

What are we aiming to do there?

- At the moment there's some nice drainage, nice grass, and soil that feels healthy underfoot. Gradually I hope it will look more like this

- And nothing at all like this.

What has happened so far?

- Really just a mad scurry to move in, and a house-warming party.
- I'm putting this presentation together from Singapore, while looking forward to getting home.

Wanna help?

- Any ideas that you have for making this a friendly, productive, weed-free landscape are most welcome.
- Come over for a cuppa and a play
